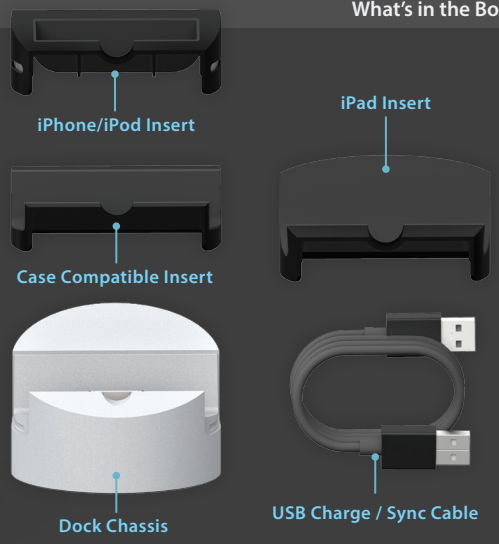
What's in the Box



Information and Warnings

Audio Line Out – The Audio Line Out port supplies external audio equipment with a fixed-volume, stereo audio signal. The docked device's internal volume controls will be disabled when an external audio device is plugged into the Audio Line Out port on the Gravitas.

USB Port – The included USB Cable can be attached to a power supply, USB device or a computer for syncing. The Gravitas should only be connected to Apple approved power sources, devices and computers.

Inserts - Do not use Gravitas without an insert installed. Use of the dock without an insert installed may result in damage to the device.

Connector Warning - Do not force or flex the connector with the device when docked. Applying excessive force to the connector may result in damage to the dock or device.

Headphone Warning - Do not use headphones with the Audio Line Out port. The Audio Line Out should be connected to audio equipment with independent volume controls. Use of headphones with the Audio Line Out port may cause hearing damage.
